

THE BIG DAY

BRISBANE-BORN LAWYER ANTHONY Partridge, 31, met fellow lawyer Angela Whiteman, 31, while working in the Cayman Islands. After three years together, Anthony proposed in Angela's hometown of Toronto, Canada. As the big day fell on Canadian Thanksgiving weekend, white+white wedding planner Danielle Manning helped the couple create a Thanksgiving-themed reception. Angela and Anthony wed at Our Lady of Lourdes, Sunnybank, and celebrated with 120 guests at Stamford Plaza in the City. The couple honeymooned in France.

Best part? Angela: "Dancing at our reception, when it was just the two of us surrounded by friends."

The dress? Angela wore a Monique Lhuillier ivory lace gown. The bridesmaids wore rouge dresses by Kirstie Kelly.

The cake? Ideas in Icing created the three-tier pumpkin spice cake topped with ivory frosting, roses and gerberas.

The flowers? Autumn-inspired roses, gerberas, freesias, orchids and berries by Bouquet Boutique.
